PROPOSED LEGISLATION.

"Government by Injunction" Discussed by a House Committee.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.-The issue was known in the last presiinjunction" was the subject of debate by the House committee on judiciary to-day. The committee has before it a substitute for the bill which passed the Senate last June, dividing contempts of court into direct or indirect classes and permitting trials by jury in the latter cases. This substitute is not so sweeping in character as the Senate bill and the sentiment of the committee seemed to be to restrict still further its scope. There was a general expression, however, to the effect that United States courts showed a tendency to strain their jurisdiction on the ground of contempt to the point of infringement on the right of trial by jury, and a bill probably will be reported. Senator Pettigrew to-day introduced oill in the Senate providing for a grant of land to the State of South Dakota to aid in the construction of the Dakota Pacific road from South Falls, S. D., to Granger, Wyo. The bill grants alternate sections of land for twenty miles on each side of the AMERICANS IN JERUSALEM.

"Overcomers" and Others Waiting for the Second Advent of Christ.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.-There are a queer lot of American colonists in ancient Jerusalem, according to United States Consul Wallace. In a report to the State Deresiding in Palestine, 438 are Jews who are nominally Americans, having stopped in the Palestine only long enough to take out American papers and passports. Of the other pinety-two, nearly all have come to Jerusalem because of some peculiar religious belief. The one idea which seems to ossess them all is that there will be a second advent of our Lord and that this will take place in Jerusalem. Some of them. during their period of waiting, are suffering for the necessaries of life, but are content to endure the privation in the hope of witnessing His coming. The Spoffordite colony, or "Overcomers," as they call themselves, have been recently increased by the dition of 117 Swedish-Americans, mostly from Chicago. The leader, Mrs. Spofford claims to be under the direct protection of the Almighty and to possess prophetic powers. They are a peaceable and law-

Sawtelle, assistant quartermaster general to be brigadier general and quartermaster general; Captain Arthur L. Wagner, Sixth Infantry, to be major and assistant adjutant general. The following to be captains and assistant quartermasters: First Lieutenant Carroll A. Devol, Twenty-fifth Infantry; First Lieutenant Thomas Cruse. Sixth Cavalry: First Lieutenant Daniel E. The Choctaw Treaty.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.-General F. C. Armstrong, of the Dawes Indian Commission, has reached here and to-day presented reports covering the work of the commission up to date. The report was accompanied by the new treaty with the Choctaws, who have agreed by the treaty to break up tribal relations and assume the new form of government within eight years. General Armstrong reports that the surveying and allotment of lands cannot be completed for four or five years and outlines plans formulated by the commission for the disposition of various intricate questions that will follow the change of conditions. The commission believes that he other Indian nations are likely to follow the action of the Choctaws at an early date. It is possible, however, that there may be some hitch in carrying out the treaty. A protest against the treaty doubtess will be made to Congress. Another ob stacle possible, but not probable, may be presented by the Choctaws themselves when the treaty is submitted by the delegation that signed it, to the nation itself, in case such ratification is necessary. In this five members of Captain Parker's detach- | egram was received from him rescinding connection it is understood that over a score of different drafts of the treaty were prepared and considered before the present one was finally signed.

Market for American Rubbers.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.-There is a big field in Germany for American rubbers, says United States Consul Monoghan, at Chemnitz, in a report to the State Department. At present Russia is supplying most of the rubbers worn in Germany, selling through agencies all over the empire, but neither the Russian nor the German made article is as good as the American product, being clumsy and lacking in durability, although it commands the market just now by reason of its lower price. The consul also submits some statistics to show Germany is building up a large trade at England's expense with New South Wales. He gives a list of the principal German exports to that colony, and says they are not nearly as good as our own wares. and with the advantage of cheaper and quicker freights across the Pacific the Inited States should certainly have this trade. The Germans, however, keep their goods up to or above sample; pack them with great care, and employ competent salesmen speaking several languages, and thus continue to extend their trade in all quarters. Circulars are, in Mr. Monoghan's opinion, not worth the paper they are printed on as a means of introducing goods,

He has changed his place of residence to Capitol Hill, east of the Capitol, on the highest ground in Washington and seems very much stronger. Senator Turpie says that it will not be many months before Senator Voorhees will be better and stronger than he has been for some years. This will be grateful news to Indianians, who have been watching with solicitude the condition of Senator Voorhees's health.

Christmas Windfall for Clerks. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.-Through a mistake in the calculations of a clerk of the appropriation committee, the House employes received to-day a large increase in their December salaries, ranging from $60 to $100 each. The aggregate amount apprepriated was larger than needed, and as the sum had to be distributed each clerk got a pro rata share, amounting in all to several thousand dollars. The clerks are all ing this evening over their unexpected Christmas gifts, but the laugh will be on the other side when they fail to get their usual extra month's allowance at the end of the session. Mr. Cannon, chairman of opriation committee and "watch deg of the treasury," was unmercifully "rigged" to-day over the mistake. He was madder than a March hare.

Coffee Raising in Liberia. WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.-There has been a phenomenal increase of coffee planting in Liberia and the exports for the last fiscal year amounted to 3,000,000 pounds, as against 600,000 pounds ten years ago. Much of this coffee comes to the United States via Liverpool, and United States Consul General Heard says, in a report to the State Department, that if a direct line of steamers could be established to touch once in two months it would be a paying enterprise, as half of the country's imports would come from the United States.

OUR CONGRATULATIONS

And many good wishes to our friends who have patronized us so faithfully, cheerfully and well, in our effort to establish a location to undersell every one else in this city. Our Bible sale has been unprecedented. It has been quite impossible at times to wait upon all the customers just as promptly as we might wish. We have just about enough Bibles to last until Thursday at 11 o'clock P. M. We shall be open part of Christmas Day to accommodate those who want to buy return presents. What's more appropriate for a Christmas gift than a good book or a copy of the Bible. Come early and stay all day, to-day and Thursday.

After Christmas we expect to keep right on and sell good goods and maintain the high-class trade on the best streets of the city. Good prices for good goods. Wishing you a Merry Xmas.

the lady of the house last evening, with a twinkle in her eye. "Let's see. You spent something like $350 in campaigning that wonderful pacer, Some Pumpkins, you had last spring, and didn't win a penny back. I believe you paid $12 for a pair of pneumatic knee-boots, just put that item down on your memoranda for silk stockings. The quarter boots and scalpers cost $8, that will do for a new pair of shoes. Shin boots $3.50; what a nice pair of overgaiters for me. Blankets and hood, $45; you might put down an order for a silk dress with white trimmings, I think that will do for the material, seeing that times are close and collections slow. On, yes; that new track harness cost $55. I believe you got a bargain at that—$20 off, and the bike road wagon $150, you gave a check for My, $205 for those two little incidentals which you did not figure in with your campaigning bill, what a nice sealskin coat. Be sure that it is packed in a fine box, some of those clerks are so careless, you know. Now what else is there left? You said last spring that I could have as much as the How kind it was of you. I had commenced to think the horse had first claim upon your affections. But I'm not jealous the least bit, now. There, I almost forgot the trainer's bill. Why, that was $40 per month, and for five months, too. Whew, $200 more. Don't you remember, dear, of seeing that advertisement in the Courier the other day of a $500 diamond ring for $200? That will be just splendid. I think you had better put the ring in your vest pocket, for a messenger boy might lose it. Come home before dark, too, or somebody might rob you. I do not think of anything else just at present, excepting a few incidentals, such as gloves, overshoes, a box of face powder, bottle of perfumery, comb and brush, some dining room chairs, an onyx clock, two folding bedsteads, a new carpet for the back parlor, a hat rack for the hallway, a rug for our room and an oil stove for the bathroom. There, dear, I'm so glad 'tis over. Come home early. Dinner at 6 o'clock, prompt Why, what's the matter, dear?" The man of the house was dead to the world, writhing in agony. BRYAN'S HONEST FOLLOWERS. One of the Points Made by Them That Requires Consideration.

New York Independent. Mr. Bryan had supporters who were neither fools nor knaves. It is difficult for the Eastern business man to admit this, but admit it he must. The intelligently honest supporter of Mr. Bryan has been an enigma to the business classes of the East because they have wholly misunderstood the Populist phrase "the money power." They have supposed that it expressed in general the poor man's envy of the rich. and in particular his painful sense of the ability of great masses of capital to crush small business rivals in the ordinary course of competition and to drive hard bargains and the government, by means of which the poor are robbed in a genteel legal man-ner for the benefit of the rich. Whoever will take the trouble to look through that part of the Bryan campaign literature which was not manufactured by literary bureaus, but appeared spontaneously in the editorial columns of local newspapers in the South and West, can easily satisfy himself of the truth of this assertion. And whoever makes such an investigation will cease to doubt that the alleged discontent among farmers and wage earners is real, is widespread and is a far more serious thing than would be any dissatisfaction arising from mere poverty as such. It is a discontent that is ugly and dangerous, because the very essence of it is a belief that there is now in this country one law for the rich That American is blind who does not know that right here in New York and New England, not to go West or South, the farmers are harping upon the malad-justment of national and local taxation in the interest of accumulated wealth, and upon the granting of priceless franchises to those who have the wherewithal to bribe legislatures; who does not know that everywhere the workingmen believe that the courts can be relied on to brand boycotting by employes as conspiracy and to defend blacklisting by employers as a legitimate liberty; who does not know that small investors throughout the country believe that both legislatures and courts can be trusted to keep stock-wrecking directors out of prison and to bring the whole power of the law to bear upon stockholders who have handed over their savings in good faith. Let no ingenuous student of social conditions deceive himself with the notion that it is monopoly as such or inequality as such that is goading the farmers and the wage earners of this favored Nation into a desire to repudiate debts and to smash the corporations. The efficient cause of their mutterings is an alleged inequality before the law, which violates both the spirit and the letter of the Constitution, and which is supposed to be bought for hard cash by men who have no scruples about "fixing" the

Judge Allison a "Sooner." GUTHRIE, O. T., Dec. 22.-In a contest case from Lincoln county, the commissioner of the general land office has rendered a decision of great interest. This is probably the most radical "sooner" decision ever rendered and affects with wage earners. Doubtless it has meant all these things, but it has meant also something more, and it is the something more that is significant. Let us, then, without further preliminary, remark that by "the money power" the thorough going Populist always means a corrupt alliance between property owners
